

Call for Submissions

Theatre Direct New Creation Unit

Theatre Direct, one of the Country's leading theatres for young audiences, welcomes proposals for new works aimed at youth and young adult audiences (ages 12 years and up). The New Creation Unit is open to playwrights and theatre creators working across disciplines passionate about exploring challenging subject matter relevant to youth.

Members of the Unit will meet monthly from September until March and in addition to a monthly stipend, artists will receive dramaturgical support and guidance, access to research residencies in schools and the opportunity to hear their work read/presented by professional actors in-studio and in front of young audiences and educators.

Please apply with the following:

- Your CV and cover letter
- A 2-page proposal outlining your new work and its intended audience
- Support material in the form of a completed script and/or video link of production for works that are non-text driven

Theatre Direct is committed to honouring and reflecting the cultural diversity of our young audiences through our work onstage and off. Therefore we will give greatest consideration to professional artists under 30 and those from equity-seeking groups.

Deadline: June 16, 2017
